Our Mission

The NoCo Therapist Summit is dedicated to cultivating a vibrant, collaborative, and connected mental health community in Northern Colorado.

We believe that strong communities foster strong clinicians. By prioritizing local connection, accessible education, and mutual support, the Summit aims to empower therapists at every stage of their journey—from early career to seasoned practitioners.

About the Summit

The Northern Colorado Therapist Summit is a two-day professional development event bringing together mental health clinicians from Fort Collins, Loveland, Greeley, Longmont, Windsor, Timnath, and surrounding communities. Hosted by Bloom Counseling & Nutrition and Integrated Counseling & Wellness, the Summit is made possible, in part, by a workforce partnership with Larimer County Behavioral Health Services, helping strengthen the behavioral health community across Northern Colorado.

OUR GOALS ARE THREEFOLD

Provide a Platform

Provide a platform for local therapists to share their knowledge and expertise through presentations, panels, and workshops.

Build Meaningful Connections

Create meaningful networking opportunities that strengthen the Northern Colorado mental health community.

Support Professional Growth

Offer continuing education credits (CEUs) to support clinicians in their license renewal—making attendance both professionally enriching and practically valuable.

Our Impact

The NoCo Therapist Summit is not a large national conference. It is an intentionally intimate, community-driven event designed to elevate the local therapist community.

Our goal is for the NoCo Therapist Summit to become a sustainable, community-focused event that continually reinvests in Northern Colorado's behavioral health community as it grows.

Why It Matters
